Break Dining Table

On the back of the successful Break occasional table range comes the Break dining table. Harnessing the popular features of its little sibling, the dining table features solid American white ash legs in both tapered round and tapered square profiles.

The leg is mounted to the table top with the signature black powder coated mounting bracket that provides a distinctive transition to the top (custom colour options available upon request).

The dining table tops are available as square or round in veneer or pre-finished board with custom options also available on request. The break dining table is a versatile option for any space.
